

SANDELL'S DRIP EDGE

Product Name:

Sandell's Drip Edge

Product Description:

Sandell's Drip Edge is used to provide a durable and aesthetically appealing finish for thru-wall or exposed flashing applications.

Use:

Sandell's Drip Edge is used to permanently deflect moisture that is exiting cavity wall construction. Once moisture has been channeled by means of flashing, it is directed to the exterior of the structure. Sandell's Drip Edge, repels moisture on contact by deterring it away from the exterior surface. It ultimately prevents unsightly staining, discoloration and water damage, as it adds an aesthetically appealing finish to the building itself. Sandell's Drip Edge should be installed beneath the flashing, especially when flashing is not carried through the wall to the outer most exterior section of the structure. Sandell's Drip Edge also prevents moisture from traveling inward, such as wind driven rain or other transverse precipitation that can cause complications in cavity wall construction as well. Sandell's Drip Edge can be manufactured in Copper, Stainless Steel and Lead Coated Copper.
